

Regular and Irregular Verbs

REGULAR VERBS - DEFINITION

Regular verbs form their past tense and past participle by adding 'ed'.

Regular verbs are verbs whose past participle and past tense are formed by simply adding '-d' or '-ed' to the root verb.

IRREGULAR VERBS - DEFINITION

Irregular verbs form their past tense and their past participle in a different way.

For example:

Base Form - sit; → Past Tense - sat; Past Participle - sat

Base Form - ring; → Past Tense - rang; Past Participle - rung

Base Form - come; → Past Tense - came; Past Participle - come

REGULAR VERBS - EXAMPLE

Most verbs are regular verbs. For example:

roll - rolled

plan - planned

cry - cried

prefer - preferred

In all these examples, the past participle is formed by adding '-ed' to the root verb. In some cases, such as "cry" and "prefer," minor changes are made to the root verb before adding '-ed.'

In some unique cases, such as "read" and "put", no need changes are made to the root verb for past tense and past participle form.

For example:

read - read

put - put cut - cut

hurt - hurt

burst - burst
