

Aunt Emma smiled when she saw Alice and her friends. 'It's nice of you to meet me at the train station,' she said. 'Thank you.'

Grandpa picked up one of Aunt Emma's bags. 'I can carry this.'

'And I can carry your violin,' said Alice. She picked up the black violin case.

