YET- until now. Use it in negatives Fill in the gaps with YET or JUST: 1. -Is Susan here? - Yes, she has arrived. and questions: 1. Have you decided yet? 2. I've done my homework. 2. I haven't decided yet. 3. My brother hasn't arrived __ 4. They have finished their lunch. 3. Has she arrived yet? 4. She hasn't arrived yet. 5. I haven't decided 6. All of my friends have ____ gone out. 5. I'm not ready yet. 7. She has _____finished her report. Tony and Simon have _____made a mess. 9. It has ____ stopped raining. 10. We haven't agreed on the terms 11. Has she prepared the food ? 12. This great novelist has_____finished his new book and it is ready for printing. 13. All these people have come to see you and to discuss important issues. Fill in the gaps with YET or 14. Julia hasn't cooked dinner ALREADY: 15. I've _____phoned my mother. We've seen this show 16. Has she phoned her mother 17. Have you had your hair cut 2. Susan has found a new 18. The show has _____started. You need to hurry up if you want to watch it. 3. I've ____ heard this story 19. The Simpsons have come! a couple of times! 20. Peter has prepared for his 4. We have ____ordered the interview. meals. 21. We've haven't had lunch 5. Have you tried it ? 22. Tara has _____ found a new job. 6. I've _____seen this movie. 23. Sonia has met her friends. 7. My parents have 24. I have ____ won the lottery! bought a new car. 25. I've cleaned all the floors, so I'm freel 26. They haven't eaten pizza____ 27. Have they eaten pizza____? 28. We've ____left without money. What shall we do? 29. Time has run out. Hand in your papers. 30. Have they arrived at the theatre ALREADY - usually means earlier than 31. We haven't arrived at the theatre expected, before the present moment. 32. The famous pop star has ____released a You can use it in affirmatives and new single. questions but not usually in negatives: 33. Has she released a new single ? 1. I have already done my homework. 34. She hasn't released a new single 2. Have you done your homework already? 3. I haven't already done my homework.