

Narrator: The children begin their game. suddenly priya slips and falls. she scrapes her knee and it is bleeding

Priya : Help! i'm bleeding. Call 999!

Jun Jie : i don't think we need to do that priya : why not? look at my knee it's bleeding mark : priya, we should call 999 only when someone is badly hurt. it's just a small wound You can still move around jun jie : priya, if we call 999 every time we fall, we will jam up the lines and prevent emergency services from getting to those who really need them

In this section, some parts are incorrectly punctuated. Punctuate them correctly.

sue : you don't need emergency treatment but you do need to treat that wound come to my house i know how to clean and dress your wound priya : thanks sue but i'd rather go home

sue : let me walk you home jun jie : mark let's go with them too mark : that's a good idea let me get our shuttlecocks and net before we leave.

jun jie : i'll get priya's things from the bench priya : thanks for being such good friends everyone

Punctuate this section correctly.

Use the computer to type the complete script. Remember to punctuate it correctly. Act out the play with your friends.

56

3.2.3, 2.2.2(a)

