Language point

Look at the useful language for shopping. Write S (sales assistant) or C (customer) in each box to show who is talking.

Who says it?

S - sales assistant

C - customer

size	What size are you? ¹	I'm a small/medium/large. ²
the changing room	Where can I try it on? ³	The changing rooms are over there. ⁴
do you like it?	It looks good on you. / It suits you. ⁵	Thanks! / It doesn't fit. ⁶
colours	How many colours does it come in? ⁷	It comes in red, yellow or green. ⁸
price	How much is it? ⁹	It's £30. / It's on sale - only $50! ¹⁰
paying	Are you paying in cash? ¹¹	By credit card. / In cash. ¹²

Now decide where these phrases fit best and put the numbers next to each phrase.

How would you like to pay?

What colours does it come in?

Where are the changing rooms?

I don't think I like it.

I usually take a small/medium/large.

How much does it cost?

Study these sentences and the information.

- How many colours does it come in?
- How much is it?

We use many and much to refer to quantity. We use many to refer to countable things and much to refer to uncountable things.

Countable things have both singular and plural forms - colour/colours.

Uncountable things only have a singular form - the noun money is uncountable.
