

I am writing to apply for the programmer position advertised in the Times Union.

As requested

I am enclosing a completed job application my certification
my resume and three references.

The opportunity presented in this listing is very interesting and I believe that my strong technical experience and education will make me a very competitive candidate for this position.

The key strengths that I possess for success in this position

Include I have successfully designed

Developed

and supported live use applications.