

I want to be a soldier so that I can defend my country.	The traffic jam here is only for today as it is National Day.	I studied medicine in the United Kingdom but I want to work in Malaysia so that I can help our people.	We clean up the beach after having a picnic there. We must leave the place clean for others.	Neither you nor I enjoy waiting for a long time. So, don't jump queue.	I don't mind the noisy firework. I understand that people celebrate this festival only once a year.	We should always speak kind words because unkind words hurt people.	I'm a vegetarian but you may eat meat at the same table with me. I don't mind.	I always tell my friends from other countries how beautiful Malaysian is and to come for a visit.
