Lesson 69

Sequence the story in the correct order.

Then, Joel wrote about meeting Mr Gelati who was looking sad because he can't please his customers with his ice-cream. Joel suggested that he tried putting in jelly babies.

Joel is back to school and was asked by his new teacher to write an essay about his holiday but Joel did not have anything interesting to write about compared to his classmates.

Then, they went to the ice-cream parlour and Mr Gelati was so excited to see Joel and addressed him as the inventor of Joel's Jelly Baby Freeze.

Joel felt that everything was so weird and then he remembered his homework. He was told to write about his pet. He started imagining

Then, Joel wrote about when they headed for Pizza Shack and was welcomed by the customers as he was the winner for free-pizza-for-a-year, for being the one millionth customer.

Finally, they went to the Pizza Shack and the pizza manager welcomed Joel and informed him that he had won pizza for a year.

Joel's teacher was happy with his work and prepared another homework to be completed during the weekend. Joel decided to do it later and went for an outing with his family.

They went to the library and to Joel's surprise, he met his favourite author Anastasia Olivetti who used his idea to write the ending of her story.

His teacher assured him that surely, he has something interesting to write about his holiday and so Joel started imagining and writing about meeting Anastasia Olivetti, his favourite author in the library.
