8. Write a title for this paragraph

If you love a road trip, knowing the speed limit is pretty important to prevent you from breaking the law and receiving a fine. Particularly in Portugal – police carry around card machines so there are no excuses to get out of paying. Or Austria, where you could be caught for speeding, not by speed cameras, but by a Policeman's own judgement. If you're driving in a 30km/h zone or less they are allowed to decide if someone is speeding by their eyes alone.
