The Real Reason Why TV Is Bad for the Kids

....The American Academy of Pediatrics just released their updated TV guidelines for children ages 2 and under. In their statement, they discourage all TV viewing for children in this age group. Part of the justification for their recommendation is that TV viewing reduces parent-child communication.

Some parents may believe that they can't offer their children the kinds of educational experiences that TV provides. But they are wrong. Children learn the best from real people, especially people who are important to them. When parents talk with their children, they not only promote their language development but also teach their children that they are valued and important. Reading books and turning off the TV can facilitate these positive interactions.

Vaccinations for people with Covid 19 have been carried out in these weeks. This vaccine has experienced a lot of debate in the community regarding its first administration because this vaccine has not passed the third stage, namely the clinical trial stage

18.Here is true about the paragraph 1:

- A. The vaccination for patients of Covid had been done last month.
- B. The vaccine has passed in the clinical trial stage.
- C. The vaccine is debatable.

D. The vaccine is effective for patients.

This clinical trial phase must be carried out on several volunteers who are willing to be injected with the vaccine and also willing to jump among people who have been infected with Covid 19. Because this aims to see the effectiveness of this vaccine from several cases that have occurred in several cities and the district . It shows shocking data that there is one case where 25 volunteers who had been injected with the vaccine turned out to be infected with the Covid-19 virus. There is an important information from the doctor's explanation that those who are exposed to this virus mean that their body cannot produce immunity or they are suffering from illness so that their immunity is low or their immunity level is low.

19. Here is the correct statement from the paragraph 2 :

- A. The clinical trial phase no need any volunteers.
- B. The patients have to jump to the healthy people.
