

ROBOTS

What do you think when we say "robots" ?

Probably Wall-e from Disney. He was used to collect garbage but finally he saved the planet. Or maybe robots from Star Wars. But, do they only exist in movies? Or are they real?

In fact, there are two robots that can do very important things, like go to places that humans can't. The "Mars Rover Opportunity" travels in space and will bring important information from other planets. The underwater robot "Trident" can go under water and will bring important information from places we can't go.

But the most incredible robot for me is the "Snakebot" . It looks like a snake but is can go to places where humans can't, like for example, houses on fire. The snakebot can go inside and check if there are people in danger. Amazing! In the future, it will be used for operations in human bodies too. So it will help medicine. Not so different from Wall-e, right?
