

Sam: What do you like doing as a chore, Bob?

Bob: Hmm, I like doing laundry and ironing. However, I dislike washing the dishes and we don't have any dishwasher. So would you like to be responsible for?

Sam: Yes, it is OK for me. Everyone must tidy up his own room. I like cooking and setting the table, but I hate taking out the garbage. What about doing this?

Bob: OK! I do it in the evenings. Do you like vacuuming the floor?

Sam: Yes, I do.

Bob: How about mopping the floor?

Sam: Oh, no, I hate it. Can you do it please? I make a cake every weekend instead of it.

Bob: That's all right. It is worth eating a piece of cake. We have furniture so we have to dust the shelves. I think we can do it in turn. Moreover, I am going to prepare shopping list and do grocery shopping.

Sam: Great. Paying the bills is my responsible. So we shared all the chores. I hope we will keep our promise. So we can live in a clean and peaceful flat.

Bob: I hope so.

Activity 1: Label the chores that appear in the reading.

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

☐

Activity 2:

Fill in the charts with chores Sam and Bob responsible for.

Sam	Bob

Activity 3:

Read the statements and check they are true or false.

1. Sam is responsible for washing the dishes.
2. Sam doesn't like cooking and setting the table.
3. They must dust the shelves in turn.
4. Bob is responsible for mopping the floor because Sam hates it.
5. Sam likes tidying the rooms and he is responsible for it.

☐
☐
☐
☐
☐

Activity 4:

Suppose that I am your classmate and you live in a flat with me. Share your responsibilities by expressing your dislikes and feelings.

I don't like being in the kitchen. So, I want to do shopping instead of cooking. Also, I hate vacuuming. I prefer loading the dishwasher. What about you?

A large green rectangular box for writing a response.

Good bye

