3. Change the direct questions into Indirect Questions.

a. Where is the train station?

Can you tell me _____?

b. Where does she catch the bus for school?

Do you know _____?

c. When will we go to buy clothes for the party?

Could you tell me _____?

d. Where is the nearest gas station so that we can get gas?

Can you tell me _____?

e. I love this bread, where did you buy it?

Would you mind telling me _____?

f. How will he go to Arequipa?

Do you know _____?

4. Look at the answers and write the Indirect Questions.

1. A: Could you tell me _____?

B: The bakery usually opens at eight o'clock.

2. A: Do you know _____?

B: He bought pliers from the hardware store yesterday.

3. A: Would you mind telling me _____?

B: There is a bus stop about ten minutes from here on the right.

4. A: Do you know _____?

B: The butcher on Main Street has the best salami.

5. A: Can you tell me _____?

B: She will buy her new dress from the clothes shop.

6. A: Excuse me, could you tell me _____?

B: You can take the train from central station.

LIVEWORKSHEETS