Match the best heads and tails.

- Due to its political structure, by the year 44BC, Rome was
- The political structure included
- Julius Caesar was
- After he had finished his one-year term position as consul,
- The First Triumvirate dissolved after
- After the First Triumvirate had dissolved
- After conquering more territory from other groups of people,
- By leading his army against his own people,

Caesar became pro-consul and Governor of Gaul.

Crassus was killed by a group of warriors from an Eastern empire.

a charismatic and rich patrician who enjoyed being powerful.

Caesar would be declaring a civil war.

Pompey's opponents convinced him to take his side.

Caesar gained even more popularity among the plebs.

officially a Republic.

a Senate, one-year term consuls and the necessary structural checks and balances.

LIVEWORKSHEETS