There is/are - toys and prepoisitons of place.

Como ya vimos, usamos "there is" para indicar que "hay una sola cosa" y "there are" cuando "hay más de una".

Examples:

There is a car.

There are two cars.

Observemos la siguiente imagen y las oraciones que la describen.

There are two balls in the box.

There is a doll beside the sofa.

There is a kite behind the picture.

There are two teddy bears on the sofa.

There is a train in front of the white teddy bear.

There is a car under the table.
