

Compare and Contrast

When you compare two subjects, you look for things that are the same. When you contrast them, you look for things that are different. Some pieces of writing both compare and contrast two things in the same paragraph or essay. Writers use transitional words to suggest whether something is being compared or contrasted.

Directions: Think about two houses, two places, or two people. Choose one of the topics and complete the following Venn diagram.

LIVEWORKSHEETS