Anya: What's up Chris?

Chris: Hey Anya

Anya: What are you doing?

Chris: Just watching Messi's farewell to FC Barcelona on Youtube. It's so emotional. He was a real hero to the club. He's my hero. What about you? Who's your hero?

Anya: Well, I don't think any celebrity could be my hero. I believe my sister Laura is my real hero.

Chris: Really? Why?

Anya: She saved me from drowning when we were little.

Chris: I didn't know that! How did it happen?

Anya: One summer day we visited my granny's house in the countryside. Her house is next to a lake. My granny and parents were drinking some fresh lemonade and eating sandwiches in the living room. But Laura and I weren't eating with them. We were playing hide and seek outside. I carried a teddy bear with me, my favourite toy. It was my turn to hide. I was running near the lake when I tripped over a rock and I fell into the water.

Chris: Oh no! What happened then?

Anya: I couldn't swim and I sank. My sister was looking for me in the backyard but she couldn't find me.

Chris: That's terrible.

Anya: It was really scary. Laura was walking into the house when she saw my teddy bear next to the lake. She ran quickly and could see me under the water. She jumped into the water and took me out.

Chris: What about your parents? What were they doing?

Anya: Mum was phoning 911 while dad performed CPR on me. Luckily, the ambulance arrived immediately.
