

Matching Paragraph

Matching paragraph for a short personal recount.

Put the number for the paragraph in order according to the pictures.

After that, she wrapped the painting. Then she went to submit it at the committee office.

A week later, Mr. Postman delivered a brown envelope into Ana's house. The envelope was thin and Ana was curious to open it.

Yesterday, Ana read a newspaper in the living room. There was an announcement about painting competition. She was keen on participating in that painting competition.

She run into the house and told her mother about the brown envelope. Her mother asked her to open it slowly. They both were very surprised that Ana won the competition.

Her mother congratulated her by giving a hug. Ana knew well that her mother always supported her for this competition.

Anna was very happy.

She took her painting brush, palette, and her canvas early in the morning. She wanted to draw the beautiful moment when the sun set.