Fingerprints

- The interesting thing about fingerprints is that there are no two sets of prints that are exactly alike.

Fingerprinting began in India in the 19th century.

- An official in Bengal discovered that many people signing contracts could not write.
- Others who could write would forge people's signatures. He came up with a solution; people would press an inked finger at the bottom of every page. There was no way that the prints could be forged or confused.

Look closely at your own fingertip. Can you see the lines that make your unique fingerprint?

- There are three main types of prints; LOOPS, WHORLS and ARCHES. Which kind does your fingerprint resemble the most?

ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS;

1. There is someone who has the same print as you. True ☐ False ☐

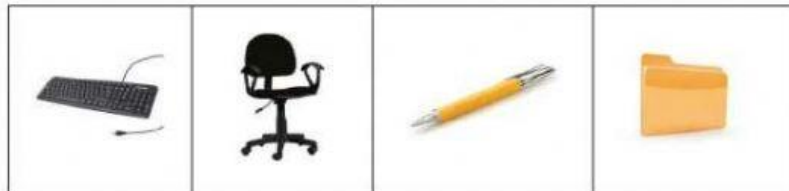

2. Fingerprinting started in the 1800s. True ☐ False ☐

3. Many people were not able to write in the 19th century. True ☐ False ☐

4. People would put their print at the bottom of the last page. True ☐ False ☐

Hi Mum and Dad,

Greetings from Mauritius. I'm having a time here.

The is wonderful. We're doing a lot of sunbathing on the ! After lunch we usually go for a drive or go in local markets. The is good – a lot of fresh fish. The is new and very clean. The people are very and nice. See you soon.

Love,
Petra
