Work with a partner. You're going to listen to an interview with Jean Crowshaw, restaurant critic for The Washington Times. Think about what her job involves and discuss whether you think the following statements are true or false.

a She eats out every night of the week.
b She never finishes everything on her plate.
c She takes notes about the restaurant at the table.
d She wears a wig to disguise herself.
e She enjoys writing bad reviews most.
f She always pays for her own meals.
g She doesn't think waiters should ask you if everything's all right.
h She likes waiters who tell you about their favorite items on the menu.
i She enjoyed her best meal ever in an expensive restaurant downtown.

Jean Crowshaw used the words in the box to talk about her job. Match each word with appropriate adjective list (a–f) to make typical noun-adjective collocations.
