

COMPARISONS AND MODALS

I. Transform the sentences using the words in bold.

1. No one in our group is as polite as Richard is. THE

Richard ..... in our group.

2. The river isn't as rough today as it was yesterday. THAN

The river today ..... yesterday.

3. With every minute I was waiting, my boredom was increasing. MORE

The ..... was becoming.

4. There's nobody whose French is more fluent than Sonia's is. AS

Nobody ..... Sonia.

5. The test was so difficult that only few of us completed it. SUCH

It ..... few of us completed it.

6. So far we've given you some information, but if you want more, please contact us. NEED

If ..... , please contact us. (Don't use "more")

7. It is the first time she has eaten such an unusual meal. EVER

This is ..... eaten.

8. I didn't think his newest novel would be so uninteresting. FAR

His newest novel ..... I thought.

II. Transform the sentences keeping the original meaning.

1) I'm sure she hasn't come back yet.

She ..... yet.

2) You told them much more than was necessary.

You ..... much.

3) It's likely that he suffers a lot.

He ..... a lot.

4) It was certain that he had learnt the bad language at school.

He ..... the bad language at school.

5) You weren't required to take part in the interview.

You ..... part in the interview.

6) Why did you go sailing in such bad weather?

You ..... in such bad weather.

7) I am certain that Gregory is having a great time at the party now.

Gregory ..... at the party now.