

A Malaysian's Rise to Fame
BY KYMBERLY OOI

Did you know that one can become famous just by being a YouTuber? Jessica Tan, more popularly known as PracticalMalaysianGirl, achieved fame back in 2007 when she started reviewing popular Korean dramas on her YouTube channel.

At the age of 27, her net worth is estimated to be around RM8 million. How did she become so successful?

Tan began her YouTube career when she watched her first Korean drama, The 1st Shop of Coffee Prince. She was only 17 years old at the time. Tan decided to post a short video review for each episode that aired and quickly gained a fan base.

Next, Tan gave in to popular demand and started reviewing American TV shows. She began with Sherlock in 2010 and has since expanded to cover dozens of series.

Then, she started reviewing films from the popular Marvel franchise when Thor and Captain America: The First Avenger were released in 2011. To date, her most popular videos are her reviews for the films Doctor Strange and Spider-Man: Homecoming. By then, she had more than 1.2 million subscribers.

After that, the local film industry reached out to her and she has starred in many local films since.

Finally, she hit the height of her popularity by collaborating with other famous YouTubers such as GreenMachine and TopBoyTV.
