

Unit 1.A – Vocabulary Gap Fill

Mohammad and his family lived in Afghanistan, a _____ that had been taken over by the Taliban. When the US were in the country, Mohammad's _____ was working with the United States' soldiers helping them to _____ Pashto words into English. With the Taliban taking over, Mohammad was scared that the _____ of the country would change as the Taliban would bring in laws that would make life much harder. One of those rules is to ban women from getting an _____ in school.

Mohammad was scared for his life because the Taliban would punish people who worked for the United States so he got an _____ to go live in America because of his bravery. Mohammad looked at the United States as a _____ of freedom and a chance to give his children a better life. Mohammad applied for _____ to the United States through his application and security checks. Mohammad wanted to seek _____ from the hard life that the Taliban promised its citizens now that America was gone. Mohammad believes the _____ from changing from the Afghan culture to the American culture will be hard at first but he's ready to try his best to integrate.