Daily Routine in Two Countries

At the moment I'm living in Japan and life here is pretty. I think just because the daily routine is so different. In England, basically I am really lazy. I _____ at you know 8:30 in the morning. Leave ten minutes later, cause I always _____ my teeth at work, _____ breakfast at work, get to work for 9 o'clock, _____ home from work at 5:30, probably lie on the sofa, _____ TV or the Simpsons, _____ some food, _____ to bed, and that is the sort of daily routine in England, a very lazy one.

When I go to Japan _____ everywhere. I mean the train systems are amazing but you need to walk to get to the train. We all _____ in the suburbs in what we call bed towns. I _____ Japanese here, I have to _____ pretty early just to get onto the train, to then _____ to school on time. After lunch I always _____ home do my homework and _____. After dinner, I always _____.
