

Question tags

¿Qué son las "question tags"?

Son esas preguntas cortitas que se añaden al final de una frase cuando no estamos seguros de lo que acabamos de decir o queremos saber si el otro está de acuerdo.

- ☞ You don't drink coffee, do you?
- ☞ Your cat is so gorgeous, isn't he?

Equivalentes a las coletillas que usamos constantemente en español: ¿no?, ¿verdad? ...

¿Cómo se construyen las "question tags"?

Lo primero es tener en cuenta el sentido de la frase:

Si la frase es positiva, la "question tag" será negativa.

Si la frase es negativa, la "question tag" será positiva.

- ☞ You know how to cook, don't you?
- ☞ You don't know how to cook, do you?

La estructura de las "question tags".

Si la "question tag" es positiva, su estructura es: Auxiliar + Pronombre

Si la "question tag" es negativa, su estructura es: Auxiliar + Not + Pronombre

Cuando el verbo auxiliar APARECE en la oración.

Verbo 'be' (present & past continuous)

- He is sleeping, isn't he?
- You are working this week, aren't you?
- She was ill last week, wasn't she?
- They were eating, weren't they?

Present & past perfect

- You have met my sister, haven't you?
- She has eaten my cake, hasn't she?
- You had spoken to Mary, hadn't you?

Will & modal verbs

- It will be fine, won't it?
- She won't tell anybody, will she?
- You can't take sugar, can you?
- I should study hard, shouldn't I?
- He must be so sad, musn't he?

Cuando el verbo auxiliar NO APARECE en la oración.

Present & past simple

- She runs really fast, doesn't she? (She does run)
- They live in Belgium, don't they? (They do live)
- You ate my biscuit, didn't you? (You did eat)
- It rained last night, didn't it? (It did rain)

iLo que más nos confunde!

Have, have to & have got

- He has a hamster, doesn't he?
- He has got a hamster, hasn't he?
- They have to eat, don't they?
- They have got to eat, haven't they?

Casos especiales

Con 'I am', siempre se usa 'aren't I?'

- I am the best student in the class, aren't I?

Con el imperativo siempre se usa 'will you?', tanto si la oración es positiva o negativa.

- Pass me that pen, will you? / Don't be late, will you?

Con la expresión 'Let's', siempre se usa 'shall we?'

- Let's have lunch, shall we? / Let's not argue, shall we?

Con 'there is / there are', la "question tag" se forma usando 'there'.

- There isn't any bread left, is there? / There is plenty of time, isn't there?