

	GUIDE FORMAT	CODE:	ICEA-FO-03
		VERSION:	2
		DATE:	25/07/2014
		SHEET:	1 de 2

Student: _____ Grade: _____ Date: _____ dd/mm/aaaa

Area: Humanities	Subject: English	Teacher: Ana María Moreno Salazar	Term: 4	No: 1
Strategy: Graphic Organizer- Goal 1
Evaluation criteria - Identifying and describing characters and setting in a story - Identifying the beginning, middle and end of a story - Expressing in own words the problem and resolution of a story
Conditions General Conditions: - Work individually, in complete silence and answer all points. Specific conditions - Be sure you answer all the questions because you will have only one chance. - Once you start the exam, you have 40 minutes to answer it. - The questions are randomized. - The exam is available only on the day assigned by the academic coordinator. PLEASE, don't try it before the date. - In case you have any problem with either the access, internet connection, or other, please take a screenshot to show your teacher and the coordinator to help you provide an immediate solution. - You must have your camera on while taking your exam.

The Giant's Causeway

1. Read again the story "The Giant's causeway" and complete the graphic organizer.

Note: Ss that take the online exam, complete it at liveworksheets

This is the legend of the famous giant's causeway in Northern Ireland.

A long time ago, there was a giant called Finn McCool. He lived in Ireland with his wife, Oohnagh. She was a smart woman, and she loved Finn very much. Finn was tall and strong and he protected his town and people. Everyone liked him.

One day he decided to walk down by the ocean. Suddenly a voice shouted, "Hey McCool! You aren't cool or strong. Why don't you come over here? I can easily beat you in a fight!" It was the Scottish giant, Bannan Doner!

Finn didn't like this, so he picked up a big rock. He wanted to throw the rock over the ocean towards Bannan Doner.

"Did you say I wasn't strong?" He shouted back.

Bannan Doner just laughed at him.

"Yes, I did! I can't swim, but I'm the strongest giant of them all!"

Finn was so angry that he started to pull rocks off the cliff and throw them into the water.

"So Bannan Doner can swim, huh? well I can make a bridge over to Scotland and teach him a lesson."

Finn worked for a week. When he finished the causeway, he shouted over to Bannan Doner.

"Now you can walk over here and fight me!"

The next day Finn was so tired after lifting all the rocks.

"Oh, dear! I'm worried," he said to his wife Oonagh. "Maybe I'm too weak to fight."

His wife decided to help him.

"Don't worry, my dear! I have a good plan," She said.

She dressed Finn up like a baby, and he climbed into a crib.

When Bannan Doner arrived later that day, there was a surprise for him.

Bannan Doner looked closely at the baby. The baby opened its mouth and tried to bite his finger.

Benandonner was scared.

"This baby is so big and so strong his father must be ten times bigger!"

Quick as a flash, he started to run back over the causeway to Scotland. He lifted up the rocks to stop Finn from chasing him. That was the end of Benandonner.

"What a fantastic plan. You really are a smart woman," said Finn

STORY ELEMENTS (100 PTS)

