

1. A computer system that has a specific function within a larger system is called

- A. embedded system
- B. micro system
- C. smart system

2. Which answer below is used to connect a microcontroller to electronic components (modules)?

- A. expansion slots
- B. software expansion
- C. expansion shields

3. Which software is used to create computer programs?

- A. presentation software
- B. development software
- C. word processing software

4. A small programmable computer is called

- A. robot
- B. machine
- C. microcontroller

5. Graphical programming software uses to create a program.

- A. blocks
- B. text
- C. symbols