

Q1

Work with a partner. Your English friend's parents are trying to decide where to take their family for a week's holiday. They want activities for their two teenage children, but peace and attractive scenery for themselves, without spending too much money. Here are some holiday ideas that they are considering. First, talk to each other about the advantages and disadvantages of each idea. Then decide which idea you think they should choose.

Complete the dialogue below, with your opinion in complete sentences. Persons A and B and they are discussing about where they should go for a week's family holiday. Please will up the dialogue for person 'B'.

Person A :	Good morning. In my opinion the best family holiday for the upcoming weekend is a city break in Italy since almost every year, we spend holidays at a beach, so we should try visiting a famous city this time.
Person B :	Besides that, I think
Person A :	I'm sorry but I don't think that's a good plan. Therefore, I have another idea in mind that you might like. Let's go camping because the weather is great. Besides, I think we could go camping in a forest in England. The view will be beautiful.
Person B :
Person A :	That sounds great too, but what about going for a Butlin's type resort in England. They have a variety of activities already prepared in a package. Hence, the weekend will be fully occupied with activities to do as a family.
Person B :

Q2

Now, let's hear your opinion on why it is important for families to plan and have holidays together.