AAAAAH, you scared me. Whoo, you scared the American bison! When we _____ are scared, our normal reaction is to run like there's no tomorrow. We call it stampeding. When we _____ like that, we tend to damage everything in our path. Sorry!

We bison have really great hearing and smelling senses like the moment I sniff you guys, I was out of there! Hihihi. But our _____ is not so good. With our sharp sense of smell we can smell a _____ approaching from a fair distance, so that's good.

Male _____ or bulls gather round the female bisons or cows who encircle our young and if this doesn't work, we stampede!

So, would I describe myself? Large, massive, enormous, hairy. See, I'm the largest land animal in _____, which is good, because that's where we live. I have a massive head. I have horns too!

Let me chew on some juicy grass now. All that stampeding got me hungry. So, shoo now! Shoo!
