

Audioscript

What are the [] of a happy marriage? I talked to Serena and Tony Roberts – they are a good example of a []. She's a [], and he's a music teacher. Serena said, "One ingredient is character. We're quite similar, so we get along well. And we have similar lifestyles, too. We both work hard and get up early. And we have a lot of the same interests – for instance, we both love sports." I said that happy couples often look [] – Serena and Tony both have small faces and they're tall and slim. "That's [] but I'm not sure I agree," said Serena. "An important thing is trust," Tony said. "Also, when you're [], say sorry." Tony went to make some coffee for us, and five minutes later, we heard a [] from the kitchen, and then Tony's voice. "Sorry!" he said.