

Grammar Notes

TYPES OF SENTENCES

The four types of sentences are declarative, interrogative, imperative & exclamatory.

declarative

A declarative sentence makes a statement or tells about something. It ends with a period.
e.g., The nucleus controls the activities in a cell.

interrogative

An interrogative sentence asks something. It ends with a question mark.
e.g., Why does the vacuole store food, water and waste?

imperative

An imperative sentence gives a command or makes a request. It ends with a period.
e.g., Colour the chloroplast green.

exclamatory

An exclamatory sentence shows strong feeling. It ends with an exclamation mark.
e.g., What a tiny cell!
