

 Listen and fill the blanks:

Hey Ma, Something's Under My Bed

I _____ it at _____ when I _____ out the _____.
It's that _____ who's under my bed.
He won't _____.
He's _____ to stay.
But I _____ he would _____ it,
instead.

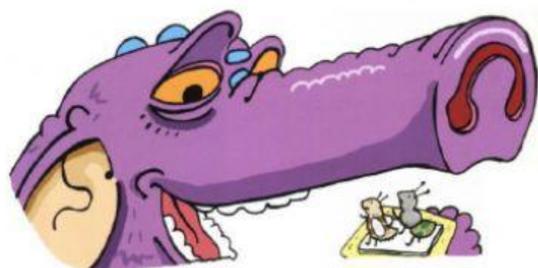

I _____ him to go,
but he _____ his head no.
He was _____ than an _____ guest.
I _____ him a nudge,
but he still wouldn't _____.
It was _____ to get rid of the pest.

 Listen and fill the blank:

The _____ was slick.
He was _____ and _____.
This called for a _____ manoeuvre.
So I _____ my spread and _____ under the bed
with the _____ of my mother's new Hoover.

But he _____ his nose
and _____ in the long hose,
the canister, cord, and the plug,
and _____ in _____ till I _____ he would _____ then he _____ it all over the rug.

Now this made me _____,
so I cried, 'This is _____!'
and _____ in a contingent of fleas,
an _____ of ants
_____ in camouflage pants,
followed _____ by big _____ bees.
But he _____ them in
with a sly, crafty grin,
and he _____ them with _____ and cheese.

Listen and move the letter into the right blanks:

under - cry out - heard - lay - through - rid - mashing - rolled - curled - hairy - holding - weaker - grew - sneaker - aim - threw - screamed – tough – Creature – picked – whiff - staggered- coughed
– sneezed – collapsed – accused – fair – night - light- ready

I _____, ‘That’s enough!’
It was time to get _____.
‘You asked for it, _____,’ I said,
as I _____ up and _____,
with an _____ sure and true,
my gym under the bed.

The very next _____ when I turned out the _____
and was _____ to _____ down my head,
I _____ my kid brother
_____ to my mother,
‘Hey, Ma, something’s _____ my bed.’

With each _____ of the sneaker
the creature _____.
He _____ out gasping for air.
He _____ and he _____
and _____ with a wheeze
and _____ me of not playing _____.

Then _____ his nose
with his twelve _____ toes,
the creature _____ into a ball,
and _____ ‘cross the floors
_____ right _____ the door.
I was _____ of him once and for all.

