c Choose one of the social situations below. What further problems might you have? How could you deal with them? Make a list of problems and suggestions.

- You have to live in an unfamiliar country for six months. You don't speak the language and very few people speak English / your native language.
- You join a class and find that everybody there already knows each other.
- You are doing an online course. During your e-tutorials you sense that your tutor is not paying attention.
- You meet someone you think is very interesting online, and you'd like to get to know them better.
