PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism means presenting _____ ideas, work, or words _____ another person or persons without proper, clear, _____ unambiguous acknowledgement. If _____ acknowledgement _____ missing, you are, in effect, saying that what you _____ writing or presenting is your own—that it came from you—when _____ fact it is stolen from another person. This means that _____ student's coursework (i.e. homework assignments, exams, etc.), thesis proposal, progress reports, final thesis, _____ even poster _____ slide presentations, must be that student's own work. If other sources are used, they must be acknowledged.

“Plagiarism is a form of cheating and is a serious academic offense.

The consequences for plagiarizing can be very severe.”
