

Drag an drop the questions back in place.

Where would you like to live?

Who would you invite to your dream dinner party?

Is it better to give or to receive?

What is your earliest memory?

What is your greatest fear?

What song would you like played at your funeral?

What or who is the greatest love of your life?

When did you last cry, and why?

What is your guiltiest pleasure?

When were you happiest?

David Schwimmer

David Schwimmer was born in New York and grew up in Los Angeles. He appeared as Ross Geller in the popular TV show, Friends. He's also a stage actor and a movie director.

Before I realized my parents, sister, and I were all mortal.

Besides death? Standing on stage in front of thousands of people, forgetting what happens next, but knowing I'm supposed to be doing it. Also, being in the ocean alone and feeling something large brush against my leg.

Diving off a piece of furniture and onto my parents' bed.

The theater.

I am always happier giving, rather than receiving, a gift – and happiest when I give anonymously.

Near the ocean, one day.

Pizza and TV, hopefully together.

Dostoevsky, Sophia Loren, Mahatma Gandhi, Gene Kelly, Martin Luther King Jr., Leonardo da Vinci, Charlie Chaplin, Cole Porter, Sade, my family, my friends, my lady, and a translator.

Three days ago, when I saw the movie La Vie en Rose. It reminded me how brief our time is here, and how wonderful it is to fall in love.

Don't Stop 'Til You Get Enough by Michael Jackson.