

Giving opinions about learning and using English

Listen to Cristina and Zoltán. Who said this?

Write C or Z for each line

Cristina

Zoltán

- ___ Adults in this country do not correct you.
- ___ As far as content is concern, it's a lot easier to understand non-native speakers.
- ___ For me some of the regional dialects are quite easy to understand as well.
- ___ Good non-native speakers are often better at spelling than native speakers.
- ___ I don't mind. My children used to love correcting me.
- ___ I find it a bit weird when a non-native speaker who's less fluent than me corrects my English.
- ___ I used to find some Japanese and Chinese speakers difficult to understand.
- ___ I would like to be corrected.
- ___ It was embarrassing for me because I couldn't understand most of what he was saying.
- ___ It's a lot easier to understand native speakers with a standard accent.
- ___ Non-native speakers are a lot more direct.
- ___ Well, it depends where they come from.