

THE BLACK SPIDER MONKEY

Part A – Error Correction

The black spider monkey is also (0) knows as the Guiana or red-faced spider monkey. It is found in eastern South America (1) on areas north of the Amazon River. It is one of the seven species (2) off spider monkeys found in Latin America. The black spider monkey is one of the (3) larger primate species in South America. It is an important part of the tropical rainforest ecosystem. The black spider monkey (4) play a key role in seed dispersal. This allows its forest environment to continue to grow and thrive. Currently the black spider monkey is on the endangered list (5) so of the destruction of tropical rainforests (6) but threats from hunting. The World Wildlife Fund (WWF) is currently (7) combated the destruction of the black spider monkey's habitat by working to (8) protecting the forests they need to survive. They are supporting the creation and management of protected areas and promote responsible forest management.

0 known

1 _____

2 _____

3 _____

4 _____

5 _____

6 _____

7 _____

8 _____

Part B – Match the word with the correct meaning.

1. Primate - _____
2. Dispersal - _____
3. Thrive - _____
4. Endangered - _____
5. Combat - _____
6. Promote - _____