

PRONOUNS

1. How people treat us is their / theirs problem, how we react to it is our / ours.
2. A broken friendship can be a comma or a full stop. The choice is your / yours.
3. My / Mine friend starts talking about her / hers problems when I'm telling her about my / mine.
4. Mum often tells me about a friend of her / hers that saved her / hers life.
5. If we help others to achieve their / theirs dreams, we will achieve our / ours.
6. I share everything with my / mine friends, all my happiness and success are their / theirs.

Fill in the suitable form of possessive adjectives or possessive pronouns.

1. My friends enrich life and I hope I enrich .
2. That tongue of is enemy, my friend.
3. Sometimes we think that nobody has problems worse than .
4. Mary understands Nick's point of view and he understands .
5. A true friend reaches for hand and touches heart.
6. She copies the way I dress and wears hair like .
7. We should forgive friends for mistakes and apologise for .
8. He started talking to me about football. He knew it was a huge passion of .

Fill in the gaps with the subject pronouns, object pronouns, possessive pronouns, and possessive adjectives.

Dear James,

Thanks for email. It was very nice to have news from . I was very happy to hear that you are finally getting married to Maria. It's perfect! I think you will make very happy and will make you very happy, too.

How did your parents react when you gave the news?

Aren't excited? I'm sure they are really happy. I'm really looking forward to seeing you all at the wedding.

By the way, do you remember that I wanted a dog? I already have one. It's a really cute little dog that I found in the street. name is Max. Sara and I found under our car on a really cold winter day and decided to adopt that adorable creature right away. We are so happy with new pet! Max has quickly become one more member of the family.

Well, I hope to see you soon, James. Please call me if you need any help.

Love,

Samuel.