A TRAIN JOURNEY TO BANGKOK

DAY 1

The train passed through stretches of oil palm plantations. I sat by the window and enjoyed the scenery. The train stopped at KL station _____ late that night.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

DAY 2

The train passed through various towns and long stretches of jungle. Then, it stopped at Kuala Kangsar station. I went down from the train to buy some food. There was a _____ large variety of traditional food sold at the stalls. I bought _____ of everything. After that, I ate everything that I bought. I was _____ full by the time the train reached Butterworth. Then, I took a _____ long nap.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Day 3

When I woke up, the train had crossed Padang Besar and headed towards Bangkok. I had a _____ good view of the surrounding landscape. I was _____ nervous when the train stopped at the River Kwai Bridge station. However, I forgot my nervousness when a tourist guide gave the passengers _____ of information the railway and the bridge. Then, the train continued its journey Bangkok.

LIVEWORKSHEETS