Last summer, Dave and Lily were staying at their aunt's house by the sea. After lunch, their aunt lay down and read a book. George and Lily played with a football and then made a sandcastle.

Dave was fetching some water when he suddenly saw a cave at the end of the beach. Dave and Lily quickly ran to the cave, but they couldn't see anything because it was dark. Lily said, "It looks very big. Let's climb over the rocks and go inside."

They climbed into the cave and played there for a long time. Suddenly, Dave said, "I can hear the sea." The sea was coming into the cave and the kids were afraid. But then, Lily felt something wet on her hand. It was a dog's nose! Dave put his belt over the dog's head and the kids followed it over the rocks and out of the cave another way. Their aunt was very happy and she gave the dog two chocolate biscuits.
