

Name _____

Quiz 5

A. Completion. Complete the information below using six words from the box entity transform

flexible underlying

perspective
vast

presume reinforce
visualize welfare

Memorizing information is an important skill for students. One technique for improving your memory is known as “mind-mapping.” This method is the invention of a British researcher named Tony Buzan. From Buzan’s 1. _____, no matter how weak you are as a student, the use of mind-mapping can 2. _____ your mental ability and help you memorize a(n) 3. _____ amount of information.

A mind map is similar to a word web (see page 179). It is a diagram of thoughts, starting from a single idea and spreading outward to new ideas, showing the connections between them. The 4. _____ theory behind it is that by drawing the map, you are made to

5. _____ the information clearly. Later, as you look at the mind map again and again, you 6. _____ your knowledge of the information and you memorize it.

abstract
mastered

acknowledging revealed

dismiss
primitive

extraordinarily pronounce

Research in the Fongoli region of Senegal has 7. _____ that chimpanzees seem to have 8. _____ the art of basic tool-making. Furthermore, a chimp was observed sharpening a stick with her teeth before using it as a(n) 9. _____ tool for killing a bush baby.¹

Although few people completely 10. _____ the findings, some researchers question their significance. Primatologist Craig Stanford, for example, while 11. _____ that the behavior is fascinating, finds that the research findings are only important enough to be “. . . a short note in a journal.” However, researcher Jill Pruetz claims that the discovery is remarkable, as it shows that chimp behavior can be 12. _____ humanlike.

B. Definitions. Complete the sentences with words from the box. Two words are extra.

abstract
humble

acknowledge
master

dismiss
pronounce

extraordinary simulate

- To _____ something means to become skilled in the use of it.
- If you _____ an action or a feeling, you copy it or pretend to do it.
- To _____ a word means to say it using particular sounds.
- A(n) _____ person is not proud, and does not believe he or she is better than other people.
- If you _____ a fact or situation, you accept or admit that it is true.
- A(n) _____ idea or way of thinking is based on general ideas rather than on real things and events.

Mr. Vichet Horn

Level 8A