

1. This was what we call the time period that occurred immediately after the Civil War.
2. Eva was a newly freed slave. She needed food, clothing and an education. She heard about a group that helped African-American people and poor white people, to obtain these things. This group/organization was called.
3. This amendment led to the the freedom of African-american slaves in the United States.
4. Due to this amendment, African-americans were considered citizens of the United States
5. Voting rights for African-americans were put into place by using this amendment.
6. These White Southerners cooperated with Northern republicans during the time period immediately after the Civil War.
7. White Southerners who migrated to the North were called this as an insult.
8. This White Southern group worked to intimidate and violently keep African-americans out of office.
9. Newly freed African-americans still worked as farmers on certain types of land that was rented to them. This practice was called.
10. Name two methods that the United States used to try to keep African americans from voting.
11. Describe the Plessy vs. Ferguson case.