

Larry (have) a very strange day.

Not only did he lost his wallet but also his suitcase. Yes, that's how his day (start). Somebody (steal) it while he was waiting for a bus or he simply (forget) to take it. He (not know) how it (happen). Anyway, he (begin) work as usual. He (take out) some papers from the drawer. Then he accidentally (knock over) the ink bottle. The ink (ruin) all the documents on his desk. His boss (scream) at him and all he (can) do was cry. After some time he (pull) himself together and (apologize) for all the mess. Right after that he (be) on his way to his office when he (trip over) a book and almost (break) his arm. His friend Linda (see) it all and (decide) to bring some coffee for him. It (be) too much for the poor man that day. He (need) a break. When she (bring) the cup of coffee into Larry`s office and he (take) a sip, he (notice) a spider in his cup. His friend Linda (say) later on that she (not know) anything about it. (be) it just bad luck or was somebody playing dirty tricks on him?
