New Message

Hello,

My name is Alex and I'm seven years old. I'm from Barcelona but I live in Madrid. I've got one brother and one sister.

My favourite subject is Maths and my favourite colour is blue. I like playing computer games and listening to music. I like bananas, but I don't like cheese. I can play volleyball, but I can't play the violin.

What about you?

Alex

The screenshot shows a Mac Mail application window. At the top, there's a title bar with standard Mac window controls (red, yellow, green buttons) and a close button (X). Below the title bar is a navigation bar with back, forward, and refresh icons on the left, and a menu icon (three horizontal lines) on the right. The main content area is titled "New Message" in a dark header. Below this header, there are two input fields: "To" and "Subject". The bottom of the window features a toolbar with icons for text formatting (A), inserting a link, inserting an image, inserting a location, inserting an emoji, and a plus sign for more options. On the far right of the toolbar is a "SEND" button.
