

WILL THERE BE...?

1. Listen to the conversation:

Lily: What are you reading, Ravi?

Ravi: It's a story about the future.

Lily: Is it interesting?

Ravi: Yes, it is. It says that cities will be different in the future.

Lily: Really? Will there be ice rinks?

Ravi: Yes, there will. It says that there will be football stadiums, too, but there won't be any airports.

Lily: Wow! That sounds interesting. Can I read it after you?

Ravi: Of course.

2. Answer to the questions:

a. what is Ravi reading? He's reading a story _____.

b. What does the story say? It says that _____ in the future.

c. It also says that there will be _____, too, but there won't be _____.

3. Grammar: Will there be...?

Will	there	be	libraries hotels ice rinks universities art galleries	in the future?
------	-------	----	---	----------------

4. Write down the questions about the future:

Example: 0. libraries:

0. Will there be libraries in the future?

1. hotels:

1. _____?

2. ice rinks:

2. _____?

3. universities:

3. _____?

4. art galleries:

4. _____?

5. Revising vocabulary from the unit:

