

Have to – has to – must

Differences between have to – has to/ must

HAVE TO / HAS TO		MUST
It is used to express obligations		It is used to express strong obligations
Affirmative sentences		Affirmative sentences
She, he, it.	has to study French	I, we, you, they, she, he it → must
I, we, they, you	Have to French	They must study English

1. Complete the sentences with have to, has to or must. Completa las oraciones con have to, has to o must. (revisa el cuadro de arriba)
- a. I have to study for my math test. (obligation)
 - b. We _____ do our homework (strong obligation)
 - c. He _____ organize his room (obligation)
 - d. You _____ clean their home (obligation)
 - e. She _____ check Google classroom (strong obligation)
 - f. She _____ do the English exam (obligation)
 - g. I _____ learn to cook (strong obligation)
 - h. You _____ watch this movie. (strong obligation)
 - i. They _____ swim on Tuesdays and Fridays. (obligation)
 - j. We _____ arrive at school before 7:00 a.m. (strong obligation)
 - k. She _____ do her Science project for tomorrow. (strong obligation)
 - l. I _____ travel to Medellin for the karate competition. (obligation)
 - m. We _____ to talk about our English project. (obligation).