

III. Are these statements true or false according to the text about North American climate?

1. There are five climatic zones in North America. True / False.
2. In the Arctic zone cold arctic air masses dominate all year round. True / False.
3. The central regions of Greenland and the west of the archipelago are characterized by a warm arctic continental climate. True / False.
4. The subarctic belt is characterized by a seasonal change in air masses. True / False.
5. The temperate belt occupies the largest area on the mainland. True / False.
6. Three regions with different climates stand out in the temperate belt because of its great latitude. True / False.
7. To the west, the climate becomes moderate continental with warm winters and cold summers. True / False.
8. On the Pacific coast the weather is cloudy, windy and rainy less than half a year. True / False.
9. Three regions are distinguished in the subtropical zone: with humid, continental and Mediterranean types of climate. True / False.
10. In the tropical zone, there are three types of climate: humid, continental and coastal deserts. True / False.