There is a little / a few / a none

We use a *little before uncountable nouns in affirmative. We use a *few before plural countable nouns and, none when we want to talk about zero quantity.

Examples:

1. There are a few strawberries in the fridge.
2. There are a lot of potatoes in the table.
3. How many pumpkins are there? There are none.

Countable and Uncountable Nouns

Countable nouns are nouns that we can count: apple, pumpkins, peaches, etc.
We can say one apple, two apples, three apples, etc.

Uncountable nouns are nouns that we cannot count: milk, cheese, yogurt, etc.

We use there is + singular noun, and there are + plural noun.

Positive form: There is / There are

Negative form: There isn't / There aren't

Examples:

1. There are some pumpkins.
