

Match the poems with their descriptions

Ann Taylor,

'My Mother'

Who sat and watched my infant head
When sleeping on my cradle bed,

And tears of sweet affection shed?
My Mother.

John Greenleaf Whittier,

'Tribute to Mother'

A picture memory brings to me;
I look across the years and see Myself beside my mother's knee ...

Edgar Allan Poe,

'To My Mother'

Because I feel that, in the Heavens above,
The angels, whispering to one another,
Can find, among their burning terms of love, None so devotional as that of
'Mother' ...

Lola Ridge, 'Mother'

Your love was like moonlight turning harsh things to beauty, so that little wry souls reflecting each other obliquely as in cracked mirrors . . .

This short poem's description of a mother's love being like moonlight, makes it worth reading

The poem takes the form of a question-and-answer back-and-forth where the answer is always
'my mother'.

This American Romantic poet recalls the time when he was a small child and sat beside his mother's knee.

This poem is a touching tribute to mothers for their endless love and devotion
