READING & USAGE EXERCISE 1: Numbers 16 to 25

Read the text about the history of hip hop music.

Then do the exercise on page 4.

HIP HOP MUSIC: Still popular after all these years!

Hip hop music started in the USA in the 1970s. The music style began among African-American rock musicians, who took crazy names like DJ Kool Herc and Afrika Bambaataa. Their music spread through neighbourhoods in cities on the coasts, especially New York City and Los Angeles.

In hip hop at that time, performers talked while the music played. This was called 'rap', which meant 'message'. Most of the rappers were young men. They talked about parties and having fun. But in a few years, this changed. They began rapping about problems in poor neighbourhoods and problems with the police and jail.

Hip hop became popular among city kids who didn't have much money. They didn't have guitars and expensive drum sets to make music. So, they used what they had: records by other musicians. They took the instrumental parts of other songs, called 'breaks', and put them together. Then they rapped while the music played.

Young people love to dance and they created a new style for hip hop. The best dancers competed, with moves that were athletic and often difficult. The style is still called 'break dancing' and it may become an Olympic sport in 2024.

Because they didn't have clubs with big dance floors, a lot of hip hop performers played their music outside, in the street. Sometimes, they closed a block of a city street from one corner to the next and played for 'block parties'. All the young people came out and had a great time.

Greek music fans listen to the latest music from around the world. So, hip hop music and break dancing became popular in Greece soon after they did in the USA. In 1988, Run DMC, a top US group, played Kalimarmaro Stadium in Athens with four other international rock stars. By the early 1990s, Greek hip hop had a dozen artists, including one woman, Sadahzinia. Now, there are many more. Thirty years later, it's still a very popular music style!

Read this advice about email addresses.

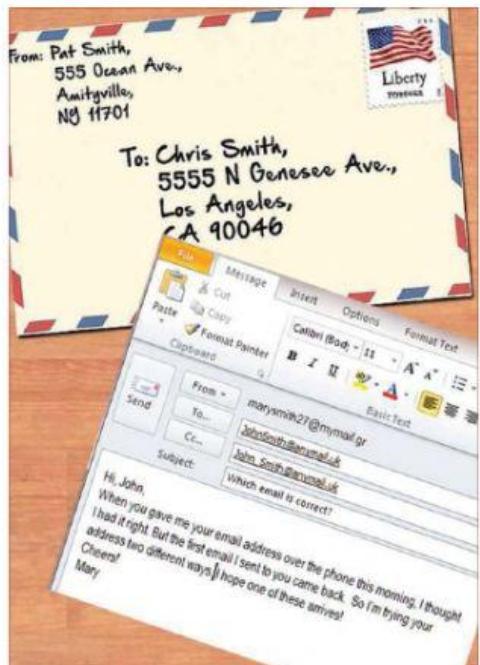

Choose the correct word or phrase to fill each gap.

Mark its letter, A, B or C, on your Answer Sheet.

Email AddressesIt's Easy to Make a Mistake

The (26) we send messages is changing, so we have to change, too. When we (27) or type an address on an envelope, we can make a small mistake. We may spell someone's name wrong or write an (28) house number, such as 123 Elm St. for the friend at 132 Elm St. But, the postman knows who lives in the area (29) he carries the mail and he'll make sure the letter (30) the right house.

Email is very (31). If there's one little mistake in an email address, our email won't go where we want it to go. Of course, (32) emails that other people send to us have the correct address, (33) their computer or phone puts it in. However, if (34) types their email address (35) a text message or tells it to you over the phone, it's very easy to make a mistake. Then, we have to be very careful!

READING & USAGE EXERCISE 3: Numbers 36 to 40JIM GETS LOST

Match one of Mum's replies from the box with each thing Jim says on the left.
Mark its letter, A to F, on your Answer Sheet. You will use only five of the letters.

Jim: Hello, Mum? It's Jim. I'm afraid I'm lost!

Mum: _(36)_

Jim: Yes, I did. You said to go down Main Street and take the right turning at the church.

Mum: _(37)_

Jim: Oh. I turned right. That was my first mistake.

Mum: _(38)_

Jim: Well, I don't actually know where I am.

Mum: _(39)_

Jim: No, not really. But, there's a greengrocer's opposite. Altemeir's is the name on the sign.

Mum: _(40)_

Jim: Thanks, Mum! And, don't forget we have to bring my bike home, too! So drive the jeep!

A. Well, I don't think that's a good idea.

B. You're what? Lost? Didn't you follow my directions?

C. Yes, and I hope it was your only mistake. So, where are you now?

D. Oh, good! I know that shop. I'll come and get you.

E. No, Jim. I said, 'Take the left turning at the church'!

F. You don't? Well, does anything look familiar?

READING & USAGE EXERCISE 4: Numbers 41 to 45MEG CHOOSES TABLE TENNIS

Put the parts of the story in the correct order.

Mark the letter of each part, A to G, on your Answer Sheet.

You will use only five of the letters. The first one is done for you.

EX. Part 1 A

The answer is A. So, Meg decided ... A B C D E F G H

Meg wanted to start doing a sport that was played indoors, like basketball or volleyball. But, she didn't want to play a team sport.

EX. Part 1 A

41. Part 2

42. Part 3

43. Part 4

44. Part 5

45. Part 6

- A. So, Meg decided to try table tennis, or ping-pong, as some people call it.
- B. Soon, Meg started training with a coach and, in just a few months, she entered her first competition.
- C. She decided to try this sport because she had played it at her aunt's house. It was fun and it seemed easy!
- D. Those champions jumped high and hit the ball hard. They made the ball fly so fast that the other player usually couldn't hit it.
- E. Meg's older brother played in the school football team, and he was very good.
- F. But Meg knew that, in competition, it wasn't so easy. She had seen champion ping-pong players from Japan and China.
- G. When the other player missed the ball, they scored a point. Yes, that was the game for her ... easy at first, but something she could work to be better at.

She won that first match! And she went on to win many more!

READING & USAGE EXERCISE 5: Numbers 46 to 50

Match the text that goes with each recipe card picture, 46 to 50.

Mark its letter, A to E, on your Answer Sheet. You will use all of the letters.

Let's make a Mexican Taco!

A Mexican 'taco' is a lot like a Greek 'gyro' or a Chinese 'spring roll'. All three are sandwiches, with some kind of bread wrapped around meat and vegetables. If you don't eat meat, you can also fill a taco with fish or beans.

46

A While the meat is cooking, prepare the other food to fill the taco. You'll want tomato, lettuce, onion and some white or yellow cheese. Cut each of these into very small pieces and put each one in its own bowl.

47

B To fill the tortilla, first put in a tablespoon or two of the meat mixture. On top of that, add a spoonful of chopped tomato, then the lettuce, and some cheese. That's it! Your taco is ready to eat! Enjoy!

48

C Start the meat first. Take half a kilo of minced beef and fry it with onions and a packet of 'taco mix' that you can buy at the supermarket.

49

D An easy way to prepare the tortillas is to hang them over two wires of the oven shelf. Brush the tortillas with oil and bake them for about 10 minutes. Remove them from the oven and they're ready to fill.

50

E When the meat's brown, turn down the heat. Let it cook slowly while you prepare the last part, the 'taco shell', a flat bread called 'tortilla' in Spanish.

We checked our recipe and borrowed most of these pictures from the Mexican Please website. Thanks, MP!
